

Cootie Catcher

Example

The example below is a guide to help you where to place your information on your very own Cootie Catcher. A blank template is available on the website. You might even want to print this version too as it has some rather interesting information, but I would say that!

angelaVincent PHOTOGRAPHY	To what quality are your prints produced? All giclée prints are produced to the highest standard on traditional high quality archival paper using the finest pigment inks available, prolonging the life of your photograph for over 100 years. Canvases are produced using the finest cotton canvas available and are hand coated with a matt varnish. www.angelavincen.com	What other photographic services do you provide? Photography is my passion and my experience covers everything from commissioned contemporary portraits to fulfilling creative briefs for some of Dorset's top design agencies. To find out more, please visit my website. www.angelavincen.com	angelaVincent PHOTOGRAPHY How do I look after my Print or canvas? As with any printed material, avoid direct sunlight to help prolong the life of the photograph. Clean only with a light feather duster, not liquids should ever be used. Framing your print at the point of purchase is highly recommended.
How did you get into photography? It all started about 15 years ago, when I went traveling to the tropics and the Southern Hemisphere. The natural beauty of the changing landscapes were truly inspiring and heavily influenced my direction in photography. www.angelavincen.com	How do I look after my Print or canvas? As with any printed material, avoid direct sunlight to help prolong the life of the photograph.
